

Terex Parts

Terex Parts - Terex Forklifts stands by their mission to supply a consistent and cost effective product line. They take satisfaction in manufacturing equipment that improves their customers' return on investment. Through many divestures and acquisitions intended to expand the product offering, Terex has a short time ago expanded dramatically. They have improved their geographic coverage to enable them to present quality standards and value for their broad client base.

Remaining a aggressive player in the mechanized equipment sector, Terex is building a franchise under the Terex brand name. The company is incorporating their previous brand names for some of their components in conjunction operations the Terex brand name for a smooth transition process. Presently, Terex goods are principally marketed under the Terex brand name. Many of the following historic brand names and transitional names include: ATC, Amida, American Truck Company, American, Advance, Bartell, Benford, Bendini, Bid-Well, CMI, CMI-Cifali, CMI Johnson-Ross, Cedarapids, Canica, Comedil, Demag, ELJay, Franna, Fermac, Finlay, Fuchs, Genie, Hi-Ranger, Jaques, Load King, Morrison, O&K, Peiner, PPM, Powerscreen, Pegson, Reedrill, Schaeff, Simplicity, Standard Havens, Tatra, TerexLift, Telelect and Unit Rig.

Terex has had a steady growth cycle. In 1995 Terex acquired PPM Cranes, in 1996, then Terex divested Clark Materials Handling. In 1997 Terex acquires Telelect and Simon-RO. BPI Handlers in Baraga, Michigan is also acquired this same year.

Buying O&K Mining and Payhauler in 1998, enabled Terex to nurture their mining business. The same year their crane offering expanded their operations significantly with the acquisitions of Gru Comedil, TerexLift, American Crane and Peiner. A Light Building business soon followed in 1999 when Terex acquired Amida, Bartell and Benford. They quickly became a leader within the crushing and screening industry by acquiring Cedarapids, Powerscreen, BL Pegson, Re-Tech, and Finlay. Franna, Kooi and Princeton crane manufacturers were also added to Terex in 1999.

By the year 2000, Terex expanded into the Compact Equipment market, buying Fermac who is a producer specializing in tractor loader backhoes. Their Light Construction business continued to expand business with the acquisition of Coleman Engineering. This same year, Terex divested Moffett, Kooi and Princeton.

In 2001, Terex expanded their Roadbuilding division operations with the acquisitions of CMI, Bid-Well, Load King, Atlas and Jaques.

A couple of of the acquisitions that took place in 2002 made it easier for Terex to grow into a leader in their respective categories. Advance Mixer helped propel Terex into the concrete mixing industry, while Demag helped Terex Cranes become a leader in the crane industry. Acquiring German manufacturers Fuchs and Schaeff placed Terex in a top position in the Compact Equipment category. Genie became a principal maker of Aerial Work Platforms. This busy year was completed operations with the purchases of EPAC and Pacific Utility, which provided company-owned distribution for Terex Utilities.

A company called Tatra was acquired in 2003. This company produced heavy duty vehicles for armed forces and off-road commercial purposes. Acquiring Combatel and Commercial Body the same year allowed Terex to continue to expand its company-owned Terex Utilities supply.

In 2004, Terex acquired Reedrill, a producer of surface drilling equipment for application within the construction, utility and mining industries. Noble CE, which was referred to as Terex Mexico was also acquired this year. They manufacture high capacity surface mining vehicles and also produce numerous parts for other Terex companies.
